My family and I do not utilize MWR facilities primarily because we live off-post. We live in E-town, approx 20 miles away, and does not facilitate us shuttling back and forth from post just for MWR facilities or events. It just takes too much time. Our infrequent use of MWR is directly linked to our inability to secure adequate housing on post. Housing at all levels is wholly inadequate and far too small to facilitate most families needs. Because of this, most families that live off post (excluding Radcliff) do not use most of these services. Additionally, school age services/day care were far too costly and could be found much cheaper off post with no additional paperwork necessary. French shooting club doesn't support the community or my needs. The hours are inadequate for the load. How can you have a service that isn't open on the weekdays. Weekends are too crowded. The range doesn't facilitate good shooting or self defense techniques (ie. rapid fire, moving and shooting, engaging multiple targets, etc). Why are there no facilities that support the shooter other than a range? What about a place to purchase firearms, ammunition, and reloading supplies? The community is made up of more than just hunters. Action shooting sports such as IDPA and IPSC are also popular but are not supported here. I would like to participate in these activities, but they are not offered. Instead, I am subjected to going to Knob Creek for my range and shooting needs.

The lack of availability of the French range does not meet my desired needs. The range used to be open 2 days a week during the lunch hour for shooting. If it was opened during that time I would most likely visit the range during that time at least once a week. The range fees are to much and would probably keep me from visiting more than 2 times a month. I would buy an annual membership if it were reasonable and I did not have to pay a range fee to shoot rifle, pistol or archery. I would not have a problem paying the $3 to shoot a round of skeet because I understand the overhead costs of this type of range. Also different competitions offered by the range would be attractive to me.

It is embarassing when you bring parents and relatives on this post. If it was not for the tanks the post facilities look terrible. Fix Wilson RD and allow a bike path. Give a new home to the Youth services and the Child Development Center. Also give the staff the money to buy stuff not from their pockets but from an Army fund.

i feel that there needs to be more events that are centered around the youth of the army community. also in regards to this there needs to be a location where single soldiers can go. right now the only place that a single soldier can go is to the bar and even then he or she needs to be of age to get in 99% of the time. it has seemed that over the past 15 years the MWR system has gotten away from the recreation center for post. this center offers many different ways for soldiers to be able to let off steam without having to go out and drink. those soldiers that don't have the monitary means to buy tv's can go to these centers and watch tv. these centers also have the advantage of hosting events that promote good living within the army/postal community. outdoor recreation centers need to be more than just a place to go to get a boat, hense the name recreation. it seems that everything is more of a rent and buy then a facilitly to facilitate the activities of on and off post. as for the golf, my biggest complaint and this stems from watching and hearing what is going on and even just asking questions, that it is more for the civilians, not retired, but civilians than active military. the people are rude and they don't care that people just go to play golf, not be professional or want to be professional golfers. with all of the monitary funds that go to MWR, it should one of the most promenent programs on post, not the way it is in reality, which is, you have to ask around to get round about answers about the MWR program.

Would like to see a more active club system.

Would like to see more racquet ball courts at the gyms. I would play more racquet ball if there were more than two courts. There used to be four court but two were taken out of additional workout equipment.

Would like to see a movie theater that wasn't mainly dedicated for training soldiers.

The MWR program has a long way to go. I see a lot of the things that I like to do get little attention just because not a lot of people like to do what I like to do. I know it takes money but it is not fair. I love to fish and the lakes here on Fort Knox get little or no attention at all. I feel if the only MWR facility that gets any real attention is the golf course. My children all play soccer and love it and the fields they have to play on are full of dangerous ground hog holes and are not level. It is hard to play soccer on a field that has hills. Restaurants on post close on holidays which is when I tend to go out to eat so I have pretty much stopped eating at the on post restaurants all together. I feel on post MWR activities to should be for military patrons only. I meet more civilian people out on the lakes on the post than military persons.

Because I am half of a dual-military couple (with young children), I do not have the opportunity to participate in many of the MWR services that are offered on our post. I would like to!! My spouse and I seem to be getting ready to go TDY, coming home from being TDY, or are currently on TDY. In what spare time we do have, we have to cut our grass! If MWR could offer a reasonably-priced lawn service, that would greatly help us out!

Again, because my spouse and I are a dual-military couple, child care is very important to us. We have to pay a lot of money to have our children cared for so that we can both serve our country. It is difficult to find child care providers who are willing to watch our children overnight when we both have TDY trips at the same time (and this is not rare). In addition, we pay $80/night to have 2 children stay at a child care providers house when we both go TDY (for them to sleep at the provider's house!!), and this is in addition to what we pay to have them watched before and after school. We pay $130/week to have our 2 children cared for before and after school for less than a total of 15 hours/week. Child care costs on this post are exorbitant—it's almost extortion! We have to have it, so we have to pay!!

I'd appreciate some hanging boxing bag facilities.
 I'd appreciate some updated ellipticals at the Anderson Aquatics Center.
 I'd appreciate a movie theatre complex with stadium seating showing at least 3 movies at a time. The nearest decent theatre is almost 20 miles from post. I'm sure the community would love a decent theatre on post.
 I'd appreciate cheap DSL or Cable connections on post.
 I'd appreciate a bigger water park. It often seems over-crowded for it's size. Very popular - make it bigger! Or make a second one.
 I'd appreciate a health store with protein shakes etc., at Natcher Gym.
 I'd appreciate a gas station that is actually near a Post Gate.
 I'd appreciate a commissary that is open later in the evening when I'm actually off work. I'd use it more instead of Wal-Mart.
 I'd appreciate a BlockBuster Video store on post.
 I'd appreciate some decent walking, running and biking trails through some of the woods on post - like Otter Creek has.
 I'd appreciate the library buying more DVDs and no more VHS tapes (they take up less space anyway).

This post has a batting cage for the members to use, but is not fully functional a majority of the time.No one tracks these problems as far as the military member can see,we need a quality control. You cant put these services out if there not cared for,thats more dissappointing than not having them at all. The nearest working batting cage is in louisville.

Overall MWR Services has been great on post, however managing funds to provide these services is a must. During this year, notices were emailed out to all Fort Knox intranet users that because of buget problems, some services would be suspended due to low or no funds. When this happens, it has a major impact on not just service members but also family members too. My opion, Funds should be allocated and placed off limits for other needs.

Look, I am interested in playing golf. I love to play golf, but the prices on fort knox and every other installation are too high. I can play for the same price or less off post. The Army and MWR are only interested in a profit making business, not supporting soldiers. I believe the MWR program was started to provide soldiers with the opportunity to participate in various activities at a discount price based on the lower pay of service members. That is no longer the case. I go into the PX and commissary and see how much money has been given to MWR and I can only wonder where it went. I can no longer save any money at the PX or commissary and I get charged just as much at Lindsey golf course as off post. Sometimes, I can't even play because of all the tournaments going on there. And I don't believe they are all military tournaments either. Basically, I believe the MWR no longer works for the military (same can be said for AAFES too) and it is a broken system.

I believe that MWR is one of the most important organizations on post for dependents and off-duty soldiers. With this said I also feel that MWR has turned from soldier/dependent support to trying to be a moneymaker. Some programs are costly to use like hunting and fishing, golf, and the extremely high car care center.
Ft. Knox needs more physical fitness centers and should update some of the ones they have.

The fencing service is a complete scam, we should at least be able to purchase the fence rather than be forced to "rent" it for the entire time that we're here. Also, MWR should be cheaper than off post, not more expensive. Instead of trying to make money on soldiers, why not just take that money and fence in all the yards like most other posts do?

I would like to know why we can't maintain the lifts at the automotive shop, yet we can spend enormous amounts of money on the golf course? It shows that if you're a minority (car guy) on this post, you'll get the scraps of the more popular activities like golf because the post commander "likes" golfing more.

Fishing on Fort Knox is slightly a problem where everyone around here fishes at the same lake all year round. The lake is not stocked well enough. When it is stocked, there's about 100% participation in catching the newly stocked fish. Lower Douglas is the main fishing point for all who come on post to fish, and it needs more stocking than the seemingly once a year stocking. This would get more people out of the house to really enjoy fishing. Also, there should be a more protected fish count control to prevent those catching over the limit. People do this due to the fish running out so fast once stocked. Nothing but small fish left that need two more years to grow...at the least.

For leisure activities, when I got here they told me I needed to find a hobby. Either hunt, fish, or golf. Huntings not for me. Tried golf, but it was too hard to learn without having to pay someone $100 a lesson. So, I got back into fishing a fifteen year layoff of it. Problem is as listed above. The best time to fish is from the day of stocking up to two weeks later, then play the waiting game of six hours, no fish. Guess that gets me out of the house...but not a fun outing.

The thing I like best about the MWR is that it offers good rates at military vacation areas. Many times that is the only way young soldiers can afford to take their families on vacation. We also enjoyed very much the Dependent Youth Activities (sports) when we were overseas. I have never lived on post and currently work and live approximately 25 miles away, so it is just more convenient for me to use most services off post.

I enjoy the Bowling Center but it seems as if a lot of money was spent on making it look better (which it does), but should have spent some on equipment maintenance - a lot of breakdowns. Also, the refreshments are a LOT more expensive than at other places and that doesn't seem right when you can't bring in other refreshments. Taking advantage of a captive audience.

1. I am glad that you provide refrigerator and Microvawe. Please continue and update them, if possible.

2. The ticket discounting program could be made available to more than one person (Husband & Wife) or even to four people. Continue to obtain discounted tickets to as many programs as possible, especially programs in our community.

3. I am glad to see Earthday celebration and free seedlings distribution. Great Idea!!

4. I like to see (in the sping or Fall) Tree/Flower/Vegetable plants for swapping or for free or discounted distribution to the employees. This will encourage employees to become aware of their valuable contributions to the society at large. It does not matter, if the plant it away from Ft. Knox. Let them plant and nurture anywhere and they help the society in general. Even fruit trees which may not need spraying (eg. Plums, Pears etc) could be distributed and they might benefit the enviornment and the person who plant it. Note: This is not a competition with commercial interest as long as it is restricted to Ft. We need to have the capability to reserve, either online or by telephone, the camping spaces available for RVs at all family camps. First come-first served just doesn't cut it when you have traveled many miles only to find no availability. Additionally, the time limit on occupying the camper spaces needs to be enforced. When you drive thru various family camps, you can pick out the folks who have been "homesteading" for quite awhile above and beyond their time limit. This is unfair to those of us who are not fully retired. We are then forced to find an RV park on the economy and incur additional costs. I would strongly recommend that all family camps have full hookups (water, electricity, sewer) and cable tv. This makes staying at family camps an affordable and convenient option for military families. I would consider the standard for all family camps to be Destin Army Infantry Center Recreation Area. Beautiful facility with full amenities. I know that Fort Knox is in the process of renovating their family camp, but I still haven't seen anything about the reservation process or cable tv capability. I have stayed there when the camp was absolutely packed, so I do not see how it could be a detriment to upgrade additional amenities.

This survey does not take into account the physical abilities nor does it ask about anything to do with the handicaped. More education on healthy life stiles is needed for everyone not just a stop smoking class.

Stop sending e-mail: Everyone is tired of deleting the mail they do not read. We use it to do our job not to be bombarded with advertizement.

The hassle of using on-post facilities makes it almost useless to any active person. We need on post activities but the feel of them is instatutional not fun. The leadership needs to get out of the buisness of forced fun.

A language and math skills for children and how to get through the schooling process would help

It seems that the Army in general is aganst Motorcycles and anything to do with them. People are not going to stop riding them so I suggest the following:

All driver's (cars, busses, trucks, mowers etc..... be required to take a a motorcycle awareness course and be required to show the proof at the gate just like the people riding the motorcycle has to show proof they attended the rider safety course. Very rarely if ever is it the motorcycle riders fault for an accident)

Since children are the biggest victums (for lack of knowledge or skills) Offer bike safety classes, mini(49cc) and below classes. Make it close and use one of the large parking lots like the one vacated by the Motor Pool for GS vehicles across from the horse stables.

The Night Club situation here at Ft Knox leaves much to be desired with the demise of the Original Rocker and Main NCO Club which always had something for everyone at the same time. It was a great place to go on weekends especially. The original Rocker was a great place to go most anytime, especially during slow times at the beginning of the week.

The Rocker II would be OK except the only enjoyable night of the week is Friday eve and even then the Mgt doesn't stick to the advertised type of entertainment.

The music almost always reverts back to or caters to one group of people. I do not wish to draw any racial lines but would at least like a place to go that had a constant variety every night.

Fiddlers Green at the Leaders club is about as boring as they come.

I occasionally eat lunch at the Leaders' Club. For the most part, I am very satisfied. I have one suggestion - I believe the soft drink machine, etc. should not be located in the same area where you order and pick up cold sandwiches. This causes congested traffic in that corner of the room.

1. I would like to see computer-related instruction such as how to sell on Ebay and how to create web pages, along with how to use print shop software.
2. The Army concert series' that have been held at Godman Field are good, but they will only be successful if big-name groups are brought in. It seems pretty obvious that the county performers (John Michael Montgomery and Montgomery Gentry generated only light interest, whereas Lynrd Skynrd drew a much larger crowd. To ensure that a precedent has been set, MWR needs to be wary of contracting with country stars unless they are BIG name performers.

I feel the Army has "civilianized" too many of the activities on Post; i.e., use of facilities is not restricted to Active Duty/Retired military and their family members. Civilians, not connected with the or never been connected with the military are allowed to utilize the activities/facilities on post even without being accompanied or sponsored by a military/retired military person. Therefore, these services are no different or economically advantageous than off post facilities.

MWR services are very important to all concerned. The loss of support for the soldier in these areas only goes to tear down the esprit that has made the Army truly a part of our life. Although some of the sevicees may get more use than others, all are equally important to those that do use them. I use the outdoor and the Fitness facilities more than the others, but I also enjoy having those other services when I do want to use them. This is a large part of the very life style that being a soldier fosters. It is a part of our life and our heritage. Those that do not choose to be a Soldier should only stand in awe of those that are a part of the team.

The main issue at Fort Knox that precludes my participation in activities is they do not exist. I used the woodworking shop quite often but it was closed. I used the automotive shop as needed but it was closed. My wife and I used the ceramic shop quite often but it was closed. My point is the things that had activities that I felt were useful for me and many other soldiers both active and retired were removed from the post.

They only time that senior leadership, again, both active and retired attempted to keep an activity from being removed from post was when they closed Anderson Golf Course. Yet when they closed the various craft shops you did not hear from that same senior leadership. The craft shops were used by soldiers because they provided activities that were productive and less expensive than the cost off post. The restrictions placed on what one can and cannot do as far as repairs to their automobiles in the housing areas made the closing of the automotive craft shop not a very smart thing to do. These were programs that benefited soldiers the people in position that could have helped stood by the side and did nothing. Sometimes the value of an activity is worth more than the cost to run it and provide something for the soldiers. Users of these facilities did not have a problem in paying to use them to help defray the cost but money stood above the needs of the soldier.

I am not naive when it comes to the cost to run our fine Army and that priorities have to be set but I am also aware that you have to look at the needs of the soldiers to make his and his family's quality of life to encourage retention and make them feel they are truly part of this great organization that I devoted 25 years of my life to.

Set up drag racing on the air field. It is a growing sport. In bracket racing you don't need a real fast car. It would be open to everyone. When I first came in the army in the 70's every post had a NHRA level drag strip. Ft hood had it on rail head drive, Ft dix and Mc Guire AFB had it on a runway.

I will tell you what I have missed the most on Fort Knox and that is the Wood Working Shop where you can build items from wood and put a finish on it. I built my own furniture there, computer desk, table, end tables, coffee table, night stands, you name it, I most likely built it. I can not find any place off post like that. That is what I did after I retired, but since that has been gone for some years now, I rarely go on post unless it is to see my PCM (Primary Care Provider) at the hospital. I also work a lot of hours so I dont get much of a chance to go to any of the places on Fort Knox. While I was in the Army, I loved the BOSS program, gave me a chance to get away from it all and do things with other single personnel.

Money was recently spent to make the bowling alley PRETTY, when it would have been better spent on the users to improve the pin setting equipment. That would make the activity better for everyone if you could get through your outing without constant equipment failures. Of course the bowling manager took the remodeling of the seating area because that was all that was offered to them. Also the new snack area needs to have some not so pricey items available for the lower ranks and seniors to afford then they would buy more. The new menu took away hot dogs, grilled cheese and tuna from the menu and added newer, bigger, and more costly (and fatty) foods.

When on active duty, I used to tell my soldiers not to look for the US Army at Ft Knox, KY, because it does not live there. After 26 years on active duty, 3 1/2 of them at Ft Knox, and 25 years as a retiree/civilian worker, I have seen nothing to change my mind about that. The Post is an absolute mess. Compared to other posts I visit, the facilities, appearance of the post, and services offered are most inadequate. I like to pistol shoot for recreation. French Range is only open 1 day a week and weekends. Prices and services at the clubs are not competitive in any way with off post establishments. It is almost as though they don't want you there. What ever became of the NCO club, the one you had to be an NCO to enter?

I travel a lot for recreation, and visit Navy and Air Force establishments quite often. They look like military installations; clean and neat, squared away. They have good facilities. Army posts on the other hand, particularly TRADOC posts, look like slums and don't seem to care about the troops at all. It is almost as though the Army can't get out of the draft era, as though they have a captive audience which cannot "vote with it's feet" when it chooses. It's time for the Army to honestly devote some resources to quality of live issues such as adequate family quarters and recreational facilities. You should follow your Air Force counterparts around for awhile & see what they do.

End of rant.

It seems we are losing more of the MWR on-post all the time. The family support is gone for the youth on this post. This is my son's second year in the SAS program and we are losing our field trips that the children have greatly enjoyed. Also the clubs that they had signed up for can no longer be paid for another disadvantage. This used to be a great advantage to our children and now it is just a place to go. The Youth Sports program is also hurting it seems with the cut in the military funding it is the children who are losing out. We have lived here for going on four years and the changes for the family and children are really what needs to be improved on.

I am currently not living at Fort Knox, but have lived there off and on since the mid 80's. I was sad to hear that a lot of the wonderful youth programs that were offered at Fort Knox are no longer offered due to lack of funding. I intend to move back to Fort Knox from Germany within the next twelve months. I have three daughters ages 6, 10, and 12 who have been very involved in youth sports while stationed in Germany. I hope that when we return to Fort Knox the wonderful youth sports programs will once again be in place.

As for my current duty station in Giessen Germany, I have to say that youth sports here are great. We have a very competent and wonderful staff headed by Mr. Greg Peck who are more than willing to work with families to ensure that all children have a chance to experience youth sports. I know that he has not been able to provide some additional sports opportunities to the children of our community due to lack of funds, but he has done his best with the funds that are available. He and Mr. Willie Graham were key to the youth of our community while our soldiers were deployed to Iraq for 15 months during 2003-2004. These men should be recognized for the great job they are doing!!!

Would like to see a flat bicycle trail so that little kids can learn to ride their bicycles, or have a safe place to ride on post without the stress of motor vehicles being close. Also would like to see a indoor (climate controlled) playplace that would enable kids to play and climb during the winter months and rainy days.

If the services of MWR were more widely announced I may be more inclined to use them. Monthly flyers and/or emails to on post residents would be helpful.

There is no longer an Arts and Crafts Center on this installation--a huge loss for families here. They are a great asset at installations that have them, and our family has used them frequently at other assignments.

The MWR activities are poorly advertised on this post. Often times, information on youth-related activities is sent home with school-aged children. However, for those whose children are not yet in school or attend school off post, the advertising is late or not at all. Same with events like the post wide yard sale. It would be nice to be able to sign-up for email announcements of upcoming events.

I like to work out at Gammon Fitness center the most. Is there any way to make it more comfortable in the summer? With the new I.D. procedure (which is a good idea, this isn't a complaint about I.D. checks) all the doors are kept shut. The result is a sweltering heat, trapped body odors, and no ventilation.

I have not been near a military installation for years due to being in recruiting, but I must say that I was really disapointed when we got assigned here. There was no contact with us to see if we needed anything, nor is there any attempt now to make sure we are taken care of. There are very few social gathering among units. I do not know any of the spouses on post. I do not live on post, therefore am out of the loop on so many things. I feel MWR is trying to improve some things for some of the patrons (such as the golf course), however for the shooters and hunters, I think they are not. It almost appears that they are improving those things that are important to them personally. I do want to emphasize that I do like the scouting programs on post.

I would like to see the Youth center more available for the kids on the opposite side of post. My children live in North Diaz and it is very difficult for them to get to the center to participate. I also worry about the children that hang out outside the facility and no one seems to care.

I did not see anything about the stables on post. I read in the Turret last week about Ft. Knox's pride in the cavalry. Those stables are a memory of Ft. Knox's horse cavalry past. There is no mention of them in this survey. The post riding stables are a MWR activity. It should be a site of pride for users and visitors. There has been no help or sufficient funding from the garrison to maintain these facilities to any kind of standard. The only reason they are still standing is the work of the stable members. They are highly neglected and forgotten, just like they are in your survey.

I would like to se some sort of child care added to the gyms, and or fitness centers. I have not been because of that. I do not use the CDC, and the soccor and other sports programs are just too far out of my price range for my children to be involved. I also feel that the companies should make things known that are going on. I don't really know anthing unless it is in the paper, and I don't really know what it is, so why should I go. I feel that MWR tries, I just don't get some of it.

They should provide better quality of quarters and parking spaces in housing areas.
 They should provide More choices of restaurants or dining facilities for soldiers and family.
 They should provide transportation other than taxis... (like trolleys, buses, etc.)
 They Should provide Adequate space for running, jogging, walking
 They should provide More choices of clubs, pubs.

Most things need to be updated and cleaned up. I won't wash my car on post because the car wash is so dirty. The bowling alley looks like it was built in the 70's and not upgraded since. I just don't believe the army cares too much for families. They do what they have to and make an effort, but that is it.

I think this post needs more interaction with the enlisted families instead of most activities going for the Officers families. Most families leave post to have fun and there could be so much more money going into the Post if the enlisted families had more to do here.

Hourly Child care is a great benefit but does need some work. If you are a few minutes early(5 mins or less) you should be able to go back into the room. It is so hard on the children to wait a few minutes.

While it is important to gather information concerning both the Army-wide and local MWR programs, one of the largest program deficiencies that can be annotated in this survey is the blatant lack of useable SPACE. Fort Knox, in particular, has centralized the enlisted quarters in such a way as to limit accessibility to many MWR facilities. Younger enlisted families are therefore discouraged or unaware of the existence of these facilities or are distanced from them due to lack of transportation, inadequate child care and limited hours of operation. There is no access to wooded pathways or fitness trails. This facility is desperately lacking in the area of physical fitness among its soldiers. In the over 13 years that I have been both Active duty and/or an Active duty spouse, have NEVER seen more soldiers so far below Army standard. It is impossible to train to standards, as any trainer NCO or commander will tell you, without the proper equipment. The majority of fitness problems I have encountered on this post deal with the inability of soldiers to run--- ON PAVEMENT; there is no alternative offered other than a small indoor track. The outdoor tracks available are either paved or cinder (the cinder track is off-limits to civilians and most soldiers due to its location within the BCT and OSUT area. There is no motivation on this post to do anything physical unless it is required by command. MWR would do well to involve local (Louisville, Lexington & Frankfort) running and cycling clubs to better involve soldiers in the local community as well as to enable them to reach and maintain fitness goals. The sponsorship of a Ft. Knox Marathon/ Mini-Marathon/Triathlon or even a "Run- With-The- Commander" type event would greatly boost morale. MWR would do well also to re-open a formal restaurant. Gallota's Italian was phenomenal but poorly promoted and was "remodeled" into a severely underutilized sports bar. Lastly, a significant amount of money could be redistributed by permanently closing the post movie theaters. They have little to no audience and are an albatross, in terms of operation costs, to Ft. Knox's MWR program.

I think MWR should put forth more effort into making sure the new members of the Army family know what is offered and how to use the services available. I think that if more people knew what was there and that it was there for them, they would use it more.
